

“For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.” (Mark 10:45)

Explore the life of Jesus from the book of Mark and learn what it means to walk as Jesus walked.

Mark Overview:

The earliest and shortest of the accounts of the life of Christ, Mark is a record of the ministry years of Jesus (26-30 A.D.). Mark explores more of what Jesus did over what he said. The word “immediately” (εὐθύς: at once, just then, quickly, etc.) appears over forty times in the book. Mark presents Jesus as the suffering servant and the only source of salvation. Almost half the book is used to present the last week of Christ’s life (11-16) while the initial chapters record his ministry (1-8) and attention given to his disciples (8-10). Anticipating a coming persecution under Nero, Mark may have written his gospel to prepare believers for the suffering they would face for following Jesus the, “suffering servant.”

Intro:

John the Baptist, cousin to Jesus, has just finished announcing the coming of Christ and the need for baptism and repentance for the forgiveness of sins. Jesus meets John, is baptized by him and Jesus is then tempted by Satan for forty days. Between the temptation and Jesus’ public ministry John is imprisoned and later executed (Matthew 14:1-12).
